

Cooperative Home Services Protection Plan Products

Dear Co-op Executive:

I am proud to introduce to you the Cooperative Home Services Program, aligned with the 7 Cooperative Principles that Touchstone Energy members adhere to. The program is a Cooperative Service Provider associate member of Touchstone Energy Cooperatives, an associate member of the NRECA and many statewides.

Our products are powered by AIG® WarrantyGuard, a wholly owned subsidiary of AIG* specializing in home repair service contracts. This partnership allows us to make available a suite of innovative and valuable home repair products to America's electric co-ops and their members.

We offer a selection of protection plan products to residential homeowners. It brings peace of mind to your members that if something goes wrong with your member's residential systems (such as electric lines, gas lines, home heating and cooling systems, water pipes and major appliances) that help is just a phone call away.

Programs such as this improve the esteem in which utility brands are held, so you can look forward to increased member satisfaction. This program is designed to be:

Seamless for your members

Beneficial for your local economy

Not burdensome for your team

If you want to bring the benefits of a Program to your members immediately, but lack the bandwidth or desire to build it yourself, this is for you. Please take a moment to review our information at <https://www.coophomeservices.org> and I look forward to welcoming you to the Program.
